

Date this week

I have been thinking about writing to you for some months as this man is becoming more and more greedy

His name is Alex Grant and I have known him for a few years

I know he had a terrible accident playing rugby four years ago and was unable to walk for a long time but over the last couple of years, he has been as fit as me!!!

He takes training at our local Leisure Centre every Thursday evening where he coaches the children from Leicester Bees rugby club and occasionally referees the matches at weekends. I took a photo at last week's match - have a look at him!!

I know he does not work and claims benefits on the grounds that he is too disabled for work, but it is a lie

You ask the manager Tony Morgan he is a policeman and suspects Alex is on the fiddle

His girlfriend Stevie is as bad, she brags about how they will soon be able to afford a better house in the country.

You need to investigate this I am sick of taxpayers' money going to people like these
